

Cyl Duration

Utilities

This is a multi-platform application which is basically a mobile extension of client's website and it's products. This application displays different oxygen cylinder related equipments from the client's web store and offers all the details. Moreover, it is intended to assist oxygen cylinder users in calculating the duration of the cylinder producing oxygen. It also has FaceBook and Twitter integration with eMail feature.

With just the touch of a button, the application calculates the amount of oxygen remaining (hours/minutes) in a cylinder, giving ambulatory user assurance and peace of mind that they have enough oxygen to be on the go. The application enables users to input settings for a precise readout - including device, liter flow, cylinder size and amount of oxygen remaining in the cylinder.
