

Open Bee

Now manage share, store and access files from anywhere and anytime with Open Bee. You can also upload pictures, share comments and you'll receive eMail notification each time a new download takes place. A user must login to access her/his account. Once logged in, the user can either view all the folders, those created by her/him or only the starred ones and can also download any of them. A user also can directly upload a picture from the library or take a new picture using the camera. A user can also modify a document's name, choose document type (from a drop down list), add comments and even select the storage folder location.

Application screenshots

