

PMR

Travel

Do you keep traveling around for business and would like to manage your trips better? Try PMR, a multi-platform trip management application that would allow you to manage and keep a record of all your trips right from your smart phone. You can save trips both manually and automatically and send the location details to central database. You can even edit or export your trip details, if required.

Application screenshots

