

Life v/s Reality

The more I came closer to life,
The more I alienated from this world,
Whenever tried to peep into reality,
Faced there a new hurdle,

Invisible though visible,
Journey is not so simple,
With full of grief and strife,
Very much like a battle,

Very soon it lasted,
As soon as it is founded,
In the heart of loom ness,
Appeared arid darkness,

Echoes were listened,
In the heart of darkness,
Confronted the life there,
But voice is being shaken,

Realized, surprised, agonized,
Felt disgraceful meeting them,
Made to think and accept,
Still there is a lot to endure,

Lots of heart rendering experiences and sorrows,
Can be described as in halfway house,
It shatters you into many pieces,
And still demands to live it with smile.

The more I came closer to life,
The more I alienated from this world...